

A Life Saved

Never give up. No matter how ill you are. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has cured some terrible cases, and it will cure you.

Mr. Thos. H. Cashel, Barre Creek, Dripstone, New South Wales, writes: "I feel it my duty to let suffering people know what a wonderful blood-purifying medicine is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. My illness began with sharp pains in the limbs, while I was handling wet wool. After a day or two I could not walk, and suffered terrible pains. My face turned nearly black, large red blotches came out all over my body, and then I became delirious. I was in two hospitals for some time, and everything was tried, but I grew weaker and weaker, and became convinced that nothing could be done for me. I had heard so much about Ayer's Sarsaparilla that I thought I would give it a trial as the last hope. After taking one bottle I thought I felt a little better. So I procured another bottle, and then another, and still another. I gradually improved, and in due time left my bed for the first time in six months. I am now in good health, and I say to every one that Ayer's Sarsaparilla saved my life."

TO WORK UP KOA LUMBER

Sawmill Will Soon be Opened on Volcano House Road.

HILO, April 7.—A. Richley returned from Honolulu last week, having secured from the Bishop estate a lease for five years of 4,500 acres of koa timber land in the vicinity of the Volcano House. A company has already been started with Mr. Richley at the head, with a capital of $25,000, which will shortly erect a mill about two miles back of the Volcano House and proceed to cut down the matured koa timber of marketable size and quality on the leased Bishop estate lands.

According to Mr. Richley, in which opinion Forester Hosmer coincides, there are millions of feet of valuable koa lumber going to waste on the slopes of Mauna Kea. Some of the trees will measure seven feet in diameter, and it is Mr. Richley's purpose to cut these trees into square timbers for better handling for shipment. There is a steadily increasing demand for hardwood lumber on the coast and in the East, where it is proposed to market the large supply of koa now in sight. Some of the older trees are beginning to decay, and the trustees of Bishop estate decided to enter into a timber contract to save loss and waste to the forests. The only limit in cutting that is placed on Mr. Richley's company is that trees less than two feet cannot be removed unless fully matured. Matured trees, it is said, begin to rot, and it has been deemed advisable to clear the forest of all marketable koa.

Mr. Richley has entered into a contract to sell all the bark he can supply and he proposes to erect a complete plant on the spot, including a sawmill, planer, matcher, bark grinder and other machinery. When the active logging work begins, the new company will probably employ fifty or sixty men.

NEW ARC LIGHTS.

Pedestrians and others who have had occasion to be on downtown streets after dark have noticed the improved arc lights now in use. Last week the Hilo Electric Light Co., Ltd., replaced all the old style globe lamps with a new light known as the "Warner" lamp. The new lamp casts no ugly long shadows, is more brilliant in illumination and requires to be recharged with carbon only once in seven or eight days. The former lights were a constant source of annoyance, requiring to be refilled daily, and sputtering out at most irregular intervals.

BANANA MEN WORSTED.

A majority of the homesteaders composing the Kaihenui Settlement Association at Thirteen miles, Olaa, are preparing to plant sugar cane and have combined to plant a small acreage of seed cane for next season's planting. They have received such bad treatment by commission men at San Francisco that they see no profit in bananas for the grower. The excessive charges of the railroad, steamship lines and commission men combine to discourage the further growing of bananas in this region, it is alleged.

Apologies of this, the Herald says: Bananas, now in demand in San Francisco bring two dollars and a quarter a bunch at the stores of the commission men, while in Hilo the shippers get little more than the bills for freight. It would seem that there is no further evidence needed that the services of an agent are required in San Francisco else the shippers will be robbed just so long as the present system continues. A story is told of a fruit man in California shipping a carload of fruit to the city and getting sparse returns. But on the same train as the fruit was a man who went to investigate. He saw the fruit train unloaded in fine condition and saw it carted to the commission man's store. There he priced it and saw much of it sold at a high figure. But the grower realized little more than the cost of freight and commission to the dealer, so he hid himself to the city and interviewed the commission man, not with a six-shooter, but with a forcible argument that had the same effect, for the man discovered that his bookkeeper had made a mistake in his work and had not credited the proper amount to him. Then came an apology. Bookkeepers up there have to stand for all the schemes and rascality of their employers without receiving a salary commensurate with the amount of cunning they receive. The experience of that grape man is duplicated in Hilo by nearly every banana grower and the system will continue until the growers organize and appoint an agent in whom they have confidence.

PELE QUIET.

On Friday the fire in the pit of Kilauea began to subside, and on Saturday no glow was visible whatever. There are explosions of gas at intervals and a steady volume of steam and sulphur vapor arises from the cone where the former activity occurred. D. Lycurgus, the manager of the Volcano House, who has become an expert on volcanoes, asserts that the cessation of activity is only temporary, and will be followed by a larger demonstration than has ever been witnessed before. Five 10,000 gallon water tanks have been constructed, with a capacity of a year's water supply, and J. M. Cameron is installing a complete system of plumbing.

HILO NOTES.

R. T. Guard has donated three barrels of crude oil to the park commissioners for use on the walks in Moheau Park. It is said this will solidify the earth and make as substantial a walk as if made from cement.

According to the Mendocino Beacon, W. H. Little, one time with the Hilo Mercantile Co., now has charge of the business of the Albion Lumber Co., at Mendocino. He has charge of the company's store and may be made a director in the Albion Investment Co. Carroll Mellor has resigned his position with the Hilo Railway and taken a position with Theo. H. Davies & Co. He is succeeded in the railway by Mr. Osorio, who in turn has been succeeded by Willie Wright, who has just resigned his position in the postoffice.

The appraisers are still at work fixing the amount of damages and betterments that will accrue from the opening of Bridge street.

W. K. Ragsdale has been appointed warden of the prison gang at work canalizing the streets in Pueno.

The consolidation of Onomea and Paikou stores has taken place and Mr. Weight is now at the latter place.

The young Chinese, Ah Fook, charged with shooting his neighbor's ducks for trespassing on his fish pond, was discharged by Judge Hapai on Tuesday. There was a question as to the correctness of the statements by the complaining witness and for that reason the defendant was discharged. It was said that defendant had driven a duck into his pond and then killed it and this defendant and his witnesses denied.

L. K. Pearson expects to go next week on a visit to friends in Oregon. Mrs. Pearson and Roderick will accompany him.

The plans of the new building for the Hilo Boarding School are practically settled and it is thought that work will begin in the near future.

Postmaster Geo. L. Desha and family will occupy the Campbell residence on School street. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Siemsen will reside with them.

The Hawaiian Ladies' Society of Hilo Church are arranging a program for a concert to be given in May. The concert is in charge of Mrs. Chas. Siemsen.

The death of Mrs. Marie Henriqueta Spinola, wife of one of the tellers in the First Bank of Hilo, on Monday last, was a shock to her many friends and the sympathies of the citizens go out to her bereaved husband and parents. The case is particularly sad from the fact that it is less than a year since she was married to Mr. Spinola and her future seemed exceedingly bright. With the coming of a little baby Mrs. Spinola's health was shattered and she did not recover as promptly as she should. She was taken to the Hilo Hospital, where, in spite of the careful nursing and attention, she died on Monday. She was buried from the Catholic Church Tuesday afternoon, a solemn requiem mass being said by Father Adrien. The pupils of Saint Joseph convent, of which deceased was a pupil before her marriage, attended in a body, as did the members of Saint Francis Society, of which her husband is an officer. The Hilo band preceded the cortege to the Catholic cemetery, where interment took place.

NO IMPROVEMENT IN SUNDAY LAW

Editor Advertiser: If any one bill was more discussed than another, in the Legislature of 1886, it was the Sunday law. Early in the session Mr. Dole introduced a bill to materially change and improve the old law. It was referred to a select committee of which Hon. C. R. Bishop was chairman. The committee had many sessions, calling on the public for its opinion. Much interest was manifested and more than one suggestion from without was incorporated in the report, which recommended the passage of a bill prepared by the committee. Upon filing the report a very strenuous discussion ensued with the result that the bill was re-committed. The report was too liberal for that Legislature! Again the committee re-drafted the bill covering points desired by the House and it was again reported in nearly the form of the present law, with a unanimous recommendation that it pass. This report was adopted, the bill became law, and has remained unchanged to the present day.

What the committee tried to cover in the new law was to give a Sunday of practical freedom to every person, at the same time protecting those who desired a day of quiet and rest. Especially anxious was the committee to protect the rights of mechanics and laborers; to make it impossible for any person or corporation to compel the laborer to give up his day and work. It was conceded at once that no anxiety need be felt for the rich, they would be quite able to care for themselves, but to protect by law those who might not be equally independent. It was also the desire of the committee not to interfere in any manner with sports and games, excepting to restrict the right to demand entrance fees for exhibits of any kind. It was believed that the language of the law relative to work of necessity was amply sufficient.

And now, Mr. Editor, I fail to see that the present Legislature has improved on the work of 1886. It has distinctly failed in protecting the working man, for by the new act, work can be compelled which under the law of 1886 would have been prohibited. Soon after the passage of that law, a Chinese was arrested for planting rice on Sunday. On appeal he was acquitted, it being shown that such planting was reasonably necessary. At that time this decision was regarded as fixing the status of the law in regard to work and gave general satisfaction. It is to be observed that the act of the Chinese rice planter was shown to be voluntary and as such his judgment of "necessity" was upheld. It was intimated that an unwilling laborer could not have been compelled to work. How will it be under the new law? The writer fails to see any improvement over the act of 1886 in the bill which has recently become law, unless the right given thereby to charge admittance to baseball and other games is an improvement. Is it not more than half true that the object of the new law is to grant this permission? It looks very much that way and as if the hue and cry over the so-called "old blue law," was for the purpose of hiding the real issue. The old law is liberal, as any one can see who will give it an examination. "All labor is forbidden." This general. Then come the exceptions which may include about everything one can think of, such as selling collars to people who have not had forethought enough to provide for Sunday, or washing soiled linen and a host of other things if "necessary for the good order, health, comfort or safety of the community." * * * or for the protection of property. Following this, to save the necessity of enquiring into the question of which may be done, are stated. This enumeration does not prevent the doing of pretty nearly anything necessary. Now as for sports, amusements and the like, none are forbidden except such as are public, meaning thereby such as are general or open to any one who will pay therefor. Certainly nothing can be more liberal than this, excepting to allow liquor saloons to be open and make money by sales, and to permit sport to make that day one of gain, which seems to be what is wanted.

Now what does the new law offer? The limits of time are enlarged (possibly unnecessarily) in that barbers may shave and milk may be delivered, and a number of other things may be done, besides enlarging the list of things which may be done without question, although they could probably all have been done under the recent law as necessary. As to amusements possibly our legislative friends in their zeal to better make new laws have thrown a boomerang! Who is to say what constitutes a "common nuisance" when the statute is silent? The Common Law is our guide where we have nothing in our law books to cover a point. The legislature too has in section 3 very seriously limited the sports, games and shows permissible on Sunday. Perhaps they do not remember either that uncertain grammar gives the court a chance to make law.

Thanking you in advance for so much of your valuable space, I remain, ONE OF THE COMMITTEE OF 1886.

A CUISINE COLLECTION.

Some Suggestions Which Should Find a Place in the Housekeeper's Scrapbook.

To use marshmallows for a cake filling, they should be put in the oven for a few moments and stirred, while in the melting stage, into a simple boiled frosting.

Cake tins with an adjustable bottom prevent the old trouble of getting layer cake out in shapely form. No matter how delicate the cake, by the use of these tins it may be removed without breaking, says the New York Post.

Save the pound cans in which baking powder comes. They make excellent molds in which to pack ice cream for serving. The slices possible at the table from such a mold are convenient in size and pretty in effect.

Onion juice improves the flavor of scrambled eggs, if onion is liked at all. While a tablespoonful of butter is melting in the chafing dish, add a teaspoonful of onion juice or grated onion. This quantity is sufficient for six eggs.

Beefsteak as a dinner course is delicious served with broiled green peppers. Half a dozen young green peppers should be cut into quarters, and the seeds removed. Broil over a very hot fire until the edges curl. Put a tiny bit of butter and a dash of salt on each piece, and serve on the steak. The gelatine added to strained tomatoes to make tomato jelly gives it a flavor that many persons do not like. The tomato juice may be frozen instead, if preferred. It should be seasoned with lemon juice, cloves and paprika, sweetened very slightly, strained and frozen in molds. A thick mayonnaise is served with this salad.

A cooking-teacher's directions for boiling vegetables, even onion, cabbage or cauliflower, without filling the house with an unpleasant smell, are to cover the vegetables with boiling salted water and stand the kettle aside, where they cannot boil rapidly again, until tender. It is the steam, according to this authority, that is driven off by rapid boiling that carries away not only the odor but the flavor of vegetables.

A delicious chafing dish compound is made with eggs prepared in the Italian way. A cup of milk is heated in the upper pan of the chafing dish, and when it is hot half a cupful of boiled chopped spaghetti and half a cupful of peeled and diced or sliced mushrooms are added, together with a tablespoonful of butter. Season well with salt and pepper, cook for two minutes, and add four well-beaten eggs. When the mixture begins to thicken, add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, reduce the flame and serve at once.

Club House to Bible Class.

At a social gathering held the other night by the Young Men's Bible class of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church it was announced that through the generosity of its leader, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the class in a short time would be provided with a clubhouse of its own. Mr. Rockefeller for that purpose has leased and completely furnished a four-story brick house at 11 West Forty-fifth street. The preparations are so far advanced that the date of opening has been fixed for November 1. The club will be at the disposal of all the young men of the church and their friends. It will be kept open every night, and, barring such proceeds as may be obtained from a normal membership fee, all the expenses of its maintenance will be borne by Mr. Rockefeller.
